

One-factor ablations $\rightarrow$ selected $\alpha = 1$, $\beta = 0.25$

■ architecture/features

■ vessel weight α

■ background penalty β

■ selected

Takeaway. Coordinates give the largest isolated gain. Vessel weighting $\alpha = 1$ improves localization but raises background energy; $\beta = 0.25$ is the selected balanced operating point, not the maximum of one metric.